Literacy Practices

Create Routines

Family routines help families get things done, have fun, and spend time together. Routines help everyone in the family know what needs done and when. Routines help families run smoothly and efficiently.

Talk Together

Talking with your child builds oral language. Oral language is the system through which we use spoken words to express knowledge, ideas, and feelings. To practice oral language, develop the skills and knowledge that go into listening and speaking.

Read Together

Reading with your child helps build language skills, creates family bonds, and develops a love for books! Written language is all around us! Read books, recipes, and street signs together as family.

Learn Together

Learning together as a family is fun and it models a passion for lifelong learning! Talking and reading while learning will help children develop vocabulary and create a curiosity for a world beyond theirs.
